Agency Employees Detailed to the White House and
Federal Government Agencies, 1963-1975

1. During the last three Administrations (Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon) the Agency has detailed employees to the White House as well as other Federal Government units such as the National Security Council (see Tab 1), State, Department of Defense, the National Security Agency, Treasury and others. Detailees to the White House have served in positions such as intelligence officers in the International Situation Room (see Tab 2), Executive Secretary for the Presidents Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, couriers, and secretaries. Others worked in the signal center, the Office of Science and Technology, and as a special assistant to Dr. Kissinger. Odd jobs have been done in the past such as working in the White House grounds.

2. Twelve Agency employees worked at the White House in 1963 during the Kennedy Administration on a non-reimbursable status. The Johnson Administration employed 20, all non-reimbursable. At the start of the Nixon Administration there were 21, one reimbursable. In 1973, this dropped to three, one reimbursable, two not. There are now two Agency employees at the White House, both reimbursable.

3. Over the years the Agency has detailed varying numbers of employees out of the Agency. In 1963 the total was 18. By 1967 this had increased to 54. In 1969 it was 50. By 1973 it totaled 61. It is now 45. Reimbursement has also varied. Three were reimbursable in 1963 (salaries are not available in the records). In 1967, 21 were reimbursable at salaries totalling $32,621. The non-reimbursable salaries came to $256,397. In 1969, 18 were reimbursable at $274,767; 32 were not, at $244,724. In 1973, 32 were reimbursable at $457,190; 29 were not, at salaries totalling $570,107. As of 1 January 1975, 31 employees are reimbursable at $610,733; 14 are not, at $372,010. Break-downs supporting the above figures are given in Tab 3.

4. In past years the Director of Personnel has served as the responsible Agency officer for detailees. This arrangement had its problems because he was not the line commander for the majority of detailees, and as a result detailing could be accomplished without a careful supervisory review. This has now been corrected, and the Deputy Director for Administration has been assigned these responsibilities. Partly as a result of this there has recently been an elimination of non-intelligence
